A Glimpse into Spanish Business Landscape

If you want to successfully navigate through the maze of Spanish business as an international business person, intriguingly, the business schools such as C3S imparting business study in Spain teach you to print your business cards in English on one side and the key content in Spanish overleaf. If you are conducting business in Catalonia — a huge parcel of land administratively divided into four provinces such as Barcelona, Girona, Lleida, and Tarragona — you would be appreciated to put your content in the Catalan language together with English and Spanish, a lesson which B Schools including C3S pass on to its students like a Chinese whisper.

''As Spanish people take a lot of pride in their language, hence, it is always advised for those students studying in Spain to learn Spanish which can used as a trump card and put them in the box seat,'' says Hiren Raval, chief executive officer of C3S Business School in Barcelona.

C3S Business School is a wonderful opportunity for me. I'm looking forward to my new journey. I am extremely grateful to Ms. Megha and Mr. Vivek Rathod (Elite Career Consultancy) for their efforts. I've received very helpful assistance from them, beginning with the recruitment process all the way through obtaining the visa. After arriving in Spain, I will receive the same assistance. I highly recommend C3S Business School for higher education in Europe. Looking forward to beginning my new adventure in Barcelona.
