COURSE LOAD, DURATION OF STUDIES AND GRADUATION

Graduate level degrees offered are Master's and the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.). There are two types of Master's programs: thesis and non-thesis options. The Master's programs with the thesis option are based on a minimum of 21 credit-hour courses, one seminar course and the preparation of a thesis. Master's programs with the non-thesis option are based on minimum of 30 credit-hour courses comprising minimum 10 courses and a semester project. For full-time students the duration of a Master's program is minimum 2 semesters and maximum 4 semesters. For part-time Master's students the duration of studies is a minimum of 3 and maximum 6 semesters.
The Ph.D. programs are based on a minimum of 21 credit-hours of at least 7 courses to be completed, the "Ph.D. Qualifying Examination" and the preparation of a doctoral dissertation. The course load must be completed within the first four semesters registered. The duration of a doctoral program for full-time students is a minimum 4 and maximum 10 semesters. The duration of a doctoral program for part-time students is minimum of 6 and maximum 12 semesters.
Students who have not published a scientific article during their doctoral studies are offered a 'Waiting for Publication' status and are not allowed to defend their dissertation until they present the proof of acceptance of a scientific article based on their Ph.D. thesis/dissertation work.
Duration of both master's and doctoral studies may be extended up to a maximum of two semesters.
In order to graduate, a student must have satisfactorily completed all University and departmental requirements, with minimum 3.00 CGPA at the end of the duration of studies.
